

Conference Welcomes New Treasury Staff Member

Jack Manongi joined Allegheny West Conference (AWC) late last year as an assistant treasurer. He previously worked at the Lake Region Conference (Ill.) where he was employed as an auditor and Plant Fund accountant.

“I’ve always wanted to work for the church!” says Manongi. “My dad served as an accountant for the church for many years, and I believe his faithful service inspired me to want to do the same.”

Manongi believes that no job is complete until the paperwork is done. “Although I’m not directly involved in preaching or holding evangelistic series, which I also love to do, that’s not directly my calling. My calling is to financially support those who do that,” he says.

“Mr. Manongi has extensive experience, fulfilling roles in organizations as a former chief financial officer (CFO), financial advisor, tax accountant and business manager. We welcome him as the newest member of our team!” says Keisha Bone, CFO for AWC.

“My desire is to see the Lord return during my lifetime,” says Manongi. “This motivates me to prayerfully play my part in His service as He would have me do for His glory.”

The Allegheny West Conference welcomes Jack Manongi, along with his wife, Grace, and children, Nathaniel and Naelijwa, as a new assistant treasurer.

Ethan Temple To Celebrate 100 Years of Ministry

This year, the Ethan Temple church in Clayton, Ohio, is celebrating the gift of longevity—marking the 100th year in ministry to the Lord.

Church members are also celebrating their pastoral team: John and Caren Trusty, lead pastor and first lady; Daniel Golovenko, associate pastor; and Michael Boddie, II, chaplain. Members say their messages inspire, empower, encourage, uplift and impress hearers with the hope, help and healing the love of Christ brings to seeking souls.

Along with their brothers and sisters around the world, members also praise God for triumphs over adversity and divine strength to overcome losses during the global pandemic.

The church is also blessed that they can be a blessing to others by providing food, clothing and material assistance to families in their community. Just this past year, they served hundreds of neighbors.

“As Christians, we believe that God blesses us to bless others. This is true for us as individuals and as the body of Christ,” says Trusty.

Ethan Temple will commemorate its 100th milestone during its anniversary celebration, July 28–30, themed “100 Years Strong, and Almost Home!”
